

Worried someone is experiencing Domestic abuse?

A victim may not want to admit she or he is in an abusive relationship. But don't wait to be told, spot the warning signs.

Increasingly isolated from friends and family

Unexplained marks or injuries

Makes excuses for their partner's behaviour

Partner is extremely jealous or possessive

Becomes withdrawn, depressed or anxious

Partner puts them down in front of other people

To report domestic abuse: call 999 if you believe someone or a child is in immediate danger. Call 101 for non-emergencies.
